From: ili-l-request@ala.org
Subject: Your message to ILI-L has been rejected

Your message for ILI-L has been rejected by the ILI-L List Administrator.

(Subject of your mail:______________)

Most rejected messages fall into one of the following categories:

1. Messages that are off-topic for the subject of information literacy instruction.

2. Messages that are intended only for a particular individual and not for the entire list (such as "thank you" messages).

3. Messages that contain no significant content of their own (such as "I agree" messages).

4. Automated "out of office" replies generated by your email account (please temporarily suspend delivery of ILI-L messages before you set up a vacation notice).

5. Messages that include an entire digest in their response (as well as having an unhelpful digest subject line).

6. Duplicate messages.

7. Messages with a blank Subject line.

If you believe that your message was rejected in error, please contact the ILI-L List Administrator at ili-l-request@ala.org.