

Some Helpful Websites for Book Clubs:

- Book Group Buzz: A Booklist Blog
“Book group tips, reading lists, & lively talk of literary news from the experts at Booklist Online.”
<http://bookgroupbuzz.booklistonline.com/>
- BookMovement.com: Advice and Ideas for Book Clubs
This is a link to a guide on all aspects of starting and leading a book club. Also, a good site to find reading discussion guides and find out what other discussion groups are doing.
<http://www.bookmovement.com/info/startabookclub.php>
- LitLovers: LitClub
Many good resources here for book clubs – includes lists of “generic” discussion questions
<http://litlovers.com/litclub.htm>
- Oprah.com: How to Start a Book Club
Oprah knows book clubs!
<http://www.oprah.com/oprahsbookclub/How-to-Start-Your-Own-Book-Club>
- ReadingGroupGuides.com: Advice & Ideas
Includes articles on everything from starting a book club to choosing the books.
<http://www.readinggroupguides.com/advice/index.asp>
Interviews with librarians on how they run their book clubs:
http://www.readinggroupguides.com/roundtable/interview_library_index.asp
- Seattle Public Library: Book Group How-Tos
http://www.spl.org/default.asp?pageID=collection_readinglists_bookclub_howtos